

R.D. Gleaners & Gipsies

Royal Doulton's the Gleaners and Gipsies series was designed by a S. Wilson. This very popular series was introduced in 1909 and it was production for a long time and has at least 12 pattern number issued against it. The Gleaners and Gipsies series was extended and evolved until 1937 and it had been withdrawn from production by 1937. This is another one of the series that was obviously supposed to be a romantic, but I am sure there was nothing romantic about the life of an itinerant farm laborer. To date, 26 scenes have been identified that are unique to this series and there are at least three minor colour-way variations.
