Carlton Ware Handcraft Butterfly ~ 3290 (circa 1928) "Pattern attributed to Violet Elmer" C.W. Handcraft Bluebells Coffee Pot - pattern 3294 cream matt ground - production era 1928 to 1932 Image Courtesy of "The Parnell Collection" I have also seen this pattern called Harebell. This is a very interesting find, the cups and saucers are all marked with the W&R maker's mark while the coffee pot, sugar bowl and creamer are marked with the Handcraft mark. I believe these date from the cross over period during which the W&R mark was being faded out. These pieces would have been made and the back stamp put on and then left in the glost warehouse until they where decorated. It is my belief that there must have been more cups and saucers with the W&R mark than there where coffee pots, creamers and sugar bowls so this explains the mix of marks. I have seen this mix of marks on a coffee set on an Awakening Coffee set held by the "Dulcie Agnes Joyce Memorial Collection". The other intereting fact is that the reg number 721741 was on the base - this number was issued in mid 1927. In the past I have found that these numbers seem to predate production by up to a year. Carlton Ware Handcraft Farrago ~ 3297 (circa 1928) C.W. Handcraft Farrago Vase (shape 406) - marked Handcraft - pattern 3297 matt coral pink - production era circa 1928 - 1932 Image courtesy of "Dulcie Agnes Joyce Memorial Collection" Carlton Ware Handcraft "Golden Curls" ~ 3298 (circa 1928) C.W. C.W. Handcraft Zig Zag (shape 442) - pattern number not known Image courtesy of "Dulcie Agnes Joyce Memorial Collection" Provenance: This vase was part of James King's collection. James King is a well known Candian collector who was known for his outstanding Handcraft collection.

As far as I am aware these are the only examples of the Zig Zag pattern. There is some conjecture over the name of this pattern; some say Lightning while others say Zigzag. I have looked very carefully at these patterns and have decided that they are two different patterns. Pattern 3299 is Zig Zag (production circa 1928); I believe that the two examples shown above are trial pieces. The Lightning patterns 3356 – 3357 – 3692; where made later. They are not as busy as Zig Zag, but there is no doubting that they are of the same school.

marked Handcraft - pattern number unknown Two tone mauve & chocolate semi-gloss ground 1929 to 1936 Image courtesy of "Dulcie Agnes Joyce Memorial Collection" Not the prettiest piece in the world, but it is the only example of this colour-way the panel or I know to exist. I feel that it was a trial piece and that it has not been finished. I would suggest that at least one more pin stripe of colour and the gilding has been left off. Has any body else seen an example of this colour-way?
